As you explore this magical corner of the city, you will be embraced by a bohemian and welcoming atmosphere. Following the streets, you will discover charming restaurants that overflow with authenticity and flavor.

Immerse yourself in the unparalleled flavors of traditional regional dishes, where the aroma of spices and fresh ingredients merge into a true gastronomic symphony. Each bite will transport you to the very roots of Cali's culinary culture.

Stroll through the colorful streets while delighting in delicious homemade ice creams and irresistible desserts that will sweeten your day. Don't forget to accompany your experience with a refreshing lulada, the typical drink of the region.

But San Antonio neighborhood is much more than a gastronomic route. It is a sensory experience that will immerse you in the very essence of Cali's cuisine. The hospitality of its people and the warmth of its surroundings make every visit an unforgettable memory.

Visit the emblematic places where we will make stops. At Helados Artesanales Jovita, you can enjoy a delicious lulada ice cream. At Dulces San Antonio, you can participate in the fun activity of assembling the flowerpot while tasting traditional sweets such as "cigarrillo," "dulce de anís," and "cocadas."

At Cerámicas El Palomar, you will witness the art and inspiration behind each handcrafted piece. In addition, you will find the chontaduro vendor, a symbol of the movie "Encanto," and the flowerpot that was given to all the artists.

Don't miss Zahavi, where you can savor the traditional pandebono and enjoy a refreshing orange juice. Also, visit the vegan restaurant, where you can try a delicious vegan tamal accompanied by a fresh juice.

Step into a space of art and study, where a talented plastic artist recreates captivating sculptures and paintings. At Doña Teresa, delight your palate with an "aborrajado" or a "marranita" accompanied by "champús," a typical regional drink.

At Pulgero Coffee, discover the flavors of Cali in the form of surprising snacks. Then, we will go to La Linterna, a workshop of typographic printing that has dedicated its passion to the ancient craft of handmade poster printing. Here, you can appreciate the beauty of linoleum engraving techniques and the use of movable type.
